

LIFE LENS WORKSHOP - SEPT. 22ND, 23RD GUEST SPEAKER, MICHELE HORNER

LifeLens
in color

Come join us for a weekend of discovering about each other's hard wired learning differences and learning how to work with those differences. We will learn how to respectfully recognize our children's best learning style, thinking process, pace preference, relationship to time and what motivates them. This approach will help you identify you and your child's unique learning needs and make your teaching easier and parenting a whole lot more fun! Learn strategies on how best to communicate with and help your students learn. We will discuss how to eliminate hidden relationship stressors and boost practice and home work time to be happier and more productive. Just a few people who benefit from Life Lens approach are: Parents, Educators, Home School families, Social Workers, Guidance Counselors, Human Resources Professionals, Coaches

Michele Horner has been a Suzuki Guitar teacher since 2000. Known for her innovative ideas and dynamic presentation style, Michele has been featured as a clinician at Suzuki Institutes and Workshops all over the U.S. Michele is a graduate of Penn State University where she still holds school records in field hockey goalkeeping. She is on faculty at the Greenwich Suzuki Academy and Head of the Suzuki Guitar Dept. of the Brooklyn Conservatory of Music in New York.
